USEFUL PORT INFORMATION

Location: 38°08,91 N; 13° 22', 52 E
Comune di Palermo

Harbour Plan: Small port made up of two docks: to the East, the new dock, protected on the E by the main breakwater and on the W by the lee pier, which divides it from the old dock. The new dock is used by pleasure boaters and is equipped with floating wharves. The old dock is used by fishing vessels.

Statistics:

Water surface area: 47.000 m²
Land surface area: 27.000 m²
Total quay length: 400 m
Total outer breakwater length: 400 m
Total wharf length: 70 m
Quay height: 1,50 m
Average Depth: 2,00 m

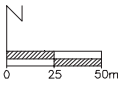

Protection: Modest against north-westerly Mistral; negligible for moorings against winds from quadrants II and III.

Capacity: Around 80 berths.

Hazards: Shallow waters along the W shore. One-metre sandbank located five metres W of the floating wharf. Maximum permitted draught of two meters.

Comune di Milazzo

Harbour plan: A single dock for various uses. The pleasure-boat area has recently been equipped with a system of floating wharves protected by a floating reinforced-concrete breakwater.

Statistics: Water surface area: 214.000 m² (40.000 for pleasure boating)
Land surface area: 100.000 m²
Total quay length: 60 m
Total outer breakwater length: 80 m
Total wharf length: 400 m
Quay height: 1,20 m
Average Depth: 8,50 m

Protection: Good when the winds blow from quadrant IV, and limited to the most sheltered area when it is blowing from quadrant I.

Capacity: Around 140 berths.

Hazards: The port is exposed to winds from quadrants I and II. To the SSW of Gamba di Donna point, there is a 6m sand-bank. About 500m NNW of the same point, there is another rocky bank with waters as shallow as 8m. Extremely busy in the summer with hydrofoil sand ships bound for the Aeolian Islands.

Location: 38°27',95 N; 14°57',50 E
Comune di Lipari

Harbour plan: Artificial Y-shaped structure emerging from a little island on which a small church stands. The island is connected to shore by a causeway suitable for vehicles. There are two docks: one to the N, mostly used by fishing boats, and one to the S for hydrofoil.

Statistics:

| | |
|--------------------------------|--|
| Water surface area: | 10.000 m ² (500 for pleasure boating) |
| Land surface area: | 5.000 m ² |
| Total quay length: | 25 m |
| Total outer breakwater length: | 125 m |
| Total wharf length: | - m |
| Quay height: | 1,50 m |
| Average Depth: | 3,50 m |

Protection: Pretty good in the S dock, which only suffers difficult conditions when the southerly Sirocco blows; scarce in the N dock, which is exposed to breakers from Quadrant I.

Capacity: Around 10 berths.

Hazards: The southerly Sirocco causes strong backwash and undertow.

Harbour plan: Small port made up of a single dock, protected by an outer breakwater with a quay running along its inside. There is also a quayside area on the shore.

Statistics:
 Water surface area: 34.000 m² (6.000 for pleasure boating)
 Land surface area: 10.000 m²
 Total quay length: 170 m
 Total outer breakwater length: 250 m
 Total wharf length: 75 m
 Quay height: 1,50 m
 Average Depth: 4,50 m

Protection: Good against north-easterly Greco, progressively less effective as the incoming weather rotates clockwise until it is highly exposed to the southerly Auster and south-westerly Libeccio.

Capacity: Around 40 berths.

Hazards: Strong winds from the SE cause backwash and undertow. Night-time approach difficult due to the presence of numerous buoys which obstruct the W part of the port basin.

USEFUL PORT INFORMATION

Location: 37°03',69 N ; 14° 13', 83 E
Comune di Gela

Harbour plan: This port of refuge is often full due to the high number of local pleasure boats. Visiting craft may moor on the N quay. The main, or west, breakwater, points SSE. The lee, or east, breakwater points SW. These protect a quay on the shore.

Statistics: Water surface area: 181.000 m² (2.500 for pleasure boating)
Land surface area: 65.000 m²
Total quay length: 370 m
Total outer breakwater length: 1.000 m
Total wharf length: - m
Quay height: 2,00 m
Average Depth: 3,50 m

Protection: The outer breakwater provides very modest protection when winds are blowing from W to SE.

Capacity: Around 50 berths.

Hazards: The seabed is liable to change following winter sea storms. Sandbank at the head of the lee pier.

USEFUL PORT INFORMATION

Location: 37°05',11 N; 13°56', 42 E
Comune di Licata

Harbour plan: Made up of two outer breakwaters and two internal piers: the west breakwater connects onto an old pier and together they form a dock for fishing boats; from the same breakwater, on the external side, an extension which lacks a quayside reaches out. The east breakwater, where there is no quay, protects the port from the mobile sandbanks at the mouth of the Salso river. Between these two breakwaters there are two piers which enclose the central dock. Here there are quays on the N and E sides.

Statistics: Water surface area: 1.201.000 m² (93.000 for pleasure boating)
Land surface area: 161.000 m²
Total quay length: - m
Total outer breakwater length: 3.000 m
Total wharf length: - m
Quay height: - m
Average Depth: 3,50 m

Protection: Good shelter against breakers coming in from quadrants I and IV. Exposed to southerly Sirocco side wind.

Capacity: Around 150 berths.

Hazards: Shallow waters, sandy seabed. Port and outer port subject to silt accumulation.

USEFUL PORT INFORMATION

Location: 35°29',79 N; 12°36',08 E
Comune di Lampedusa e Linosa
Harbour plan: Naturally sheltered bay with three breakwaters for protection. One extends from Favalaro point, the others from around Sanità point. Cavallo Bianco quay is located in the S zone of the port. The ferries moor here, while the fishing boats use a road running along the seashore as a quay.
Statistics: Water surface area: 346.000 m² (32.000 for pleasure boating)
 Land surface area: 141.000 m²
 Total quay length: 5.600 m
 Total outer breakwater length: 300 m
 Total wharf length: 420 m
 Quay height: 1,50 m
 Average Depth: 2,00 m
Protection: South-westerly Libeccio and southerly Mezzogiorno produce significant variations in water level. Provides good shelter against breakers coming in from the E and NW.
Capacity: Around 100 shallow-draught berths on the quay between the Madonna and Sanità piers. Boats with draughts over 3 metres moor on the first section of the Cala Palma quay or anchor at Cala Guitgia.
Hazards: Mooring unsustainable when the south-westerly Libeccio is blowing.

USEFUL PORT INFORMATION

Location: 37°38',56 N; 12°35',22 E
Comune di Mazara del Vallo

Harbour plan: The port system includes: the new port, at the mouth of the Mazara river, and the canal port, on the last stretch of the river, which has quays running along both sides. All this is protected to the W by the west pier, where the quay only runs along the pier's first section, and to the E by the defensive breakwater, built on the Palamito sandbank. Emerging at right angles from the west pier stand two more piers equipped with quays. The tourist dock is made up of floating wharves located on the east curvilinear breakwater, on the right as one enters the port.

Statistics:
Water surface area: 30.000 m²
Land surface area: 1.000 m²
Total quay length: 350 m
Total outer breakwater length: 500 m
Total wharf length: 425 m
Quay height: 1,50 m
Average Depth: 3,50 m

Protection: Transverse breakers come in from the SSE and SSW. Shelter is provided against the southerly Sirocco and north-easterly Grecale.

Capacity: Around 125 berths.

Hazards: Palamito sandbank on the right-hand side of the port, in the zone facing the defensive breakwater. Port subject to the "Marrobbio", a sharp variation in water level from a few centimetres to over a metre; the phenomenon does not last more than two hours and is rare, especially in summer. Shallow waters in the canal port, where there are also two road bridges which prevent craft with superstructures over two metres tall from passing.

Harbour plan: Artificial port formed by two curvilinear breakwaters and an outer breakwater. The west breakwater is reserved for cargo ships and fishing boats, but may also be used by pleasure boats. To the N of the east breakwater there is a tourist dock.

Statistics:
Water surface area: 432.000 m²
Land surface area: 115.000 m²
Total quay length: - m
Total outer breakwater length: 3.700 m
Total wharf length: 430 m
Quay height: - m
Average Depth: 4,00 m

Protection: Provides shelter from westerly Ponente and north-westerly Mistral winds. Exposed to southerly Sirocco side wind.

Capacity: Around 200 berths, 180 in the Club Nautico Lilybeo.

Hazards: When the southerly Sirocco is blowing it is advisable only to moor in the tourist dock. Sandbanks around the Florio pier and the "Banchina dei Mille" quay. Port subject to the "Marrobbio" phenomenon, a sharp variation in water level from a few centimetres to over a metre. The phenomenon does not last more than two hours and is rare, especially in summer.

Location: 38°42',42 N; 13°11',94 E
Comune di Ustica

Harbour plan: Breakwater pointing NE with a quay running along its inside, a quay on the shore and a sizeable quayside square. To the east of this little port there is a small seawall where one may moor.

Statistics: Water surface area: 18.000 m²
Land surface area: 12.000 m²
Total quay length: 175 m
Total outer breakwater length: 110 m
Total wharf length: - m
Quay height: 1,50 m
Average Depth: 3,00 m

Protection: Provides shelter only against winds from quadrants I and III. Exposed to southerly Sirocco.

Capacity: Around 60 berths.

Hazards: Avoid approaching the coast too closely. The section of the embankment outside the port and closest to shore is unusable due to semi-submerged rocks.
